MAIL ONE YEAR. SIX MONTHS, THREE MONTHS, A. M. THOMSON. W. O. ROBERTS. OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

THE NEWS.

The conscription bill is still under discussion in congress.

Surgeon General Hammond, at his own request, is to be tried by court martial. A terrible disaster has occurred at Santiago; South America, by which 2,000 to its maximum, 1250, as mounted infanlives were lost.

Colorado, Nebraska and Nevada will soon he knocking at the door of the Union to come in. If they are good looking, let them come.

of An important change is about to be made in the division of the Army of the Potomac, looking to an attack on Richmond.

What's the Matter?

There is a number of screws loose somewhere in the mail arrangements in this State that ought to be tightened up at once. Persons upon lines of railroad, only a few hours' ride apart, cannot communicate as quickly now as when the mail-bag was carried by a "solitary horseman" across the country. It takes some letters four days to reach here from Milwaukee, and three days from Beloit-and trains running regularly all the time. Letters written and mailed five days apart reach their destination at the same time. Such mail facilities would be a disgrace to the days of Rip Van Winkle, and unless it is reformed, the people will pray for the privilege of going back to the old stagecoach with its four good horses, its drunken driver and its tin horn. We are not complaining now of what occurred about the first of January, but since that time. We believe Mr. Peter Van Vechten can find profitable employment in looking after some of the route agents upon different lines of railroads in this State, and to that labor of mercy and love we respectfully invite his serious attention.

Jeff. Davis Holding the Balance of Power.

It is well known that the Union majority in the Pennsylvania Senate is only one. and as the robols now hold one of the Senators a prisoner at Richmond, thing's have come to a dead lock in the Senate of the Keystone State. The copperheads hold that branch of the Legislature by a tie vote and stubbornly refuse to organize and proceed with the business. The rebel President declines to exchange the Union Senator upon any consideration whatever, and so things remain in statu quo. If the circumstances were reversed, and Jeff. Davis held a copperhead Senator prisoner, (if it be possible for the imagination to conceive of a copporhead putting himself in a position to be taken prisoner.) would he not be likely to release him at the earliest opportunity? It is not one of Jeff. Davis' faults that he is not faithful to his friends, in moof which we cite the case

In the meantime, the people of Pennsylvania can appreciate, at their leisure, the necessity of sending none but Union men to represent them at Harrisburg.-This lesson will have its compensations

The Milwaukee News is anxious to make a point against the Republican party because the members of the Assembly did not see fit to elect Judge Hubbell to the Speakership of the House. Any person who will take the trouble to examine the Field labored as industriously for the same lauadable end, and should receive as much credit for so doing. The balloting clearly shows, also, that Mr. Northrup of Racine, who occupied exactly the same political platform with Hubbell, received more votes than he, and with the same propriety, the News might scold because Mr. Northrup was not chosen to fill the place for which he possesses conceded fitness. This thing of rowarding men simply because they are loyal and do their duty, is fast being played out, and ought to be stoppad. We would not give a fig for that man's love of country, whose patriotism is of such feeble growth that it must be constantly fortressed by place and pow-

It is stated that the arch traitor, Jost. Davis shed tears the other day when contemplating the hopelessness of the rebel cause. If devils ever weep over the ruin conventions to the utter disregard of the which their own hands have wrought Davis might emulate their serrows in a

ABRIVAL OF THE ST'R VANDERBILT.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 .- The members of both the Military Committees of Congress have received large numbers of letters, the writers volunteering auggestions or advice as to what should be the features of the amendatory enrollment bill, evidently desiring that it should be so framed as to exempt themselves from the draft. The bill before the Senate will probably pass that body to-morrow, and be sent to the House for concurrence. It corrects some of the ington Engine Co. No. 3, this evening at faults in, and its object is to render more efficient the operation of, the present law. The only persons specially exempted from the draft are the Vice President of the United States, the Judges of the United States Courts, the heads of the several Executive Departments, and the Governors of States, and, by implication, such persons as are physically or mentally unfit for service, according to the prescribed army regulations. The two classes for enrollment and draft are merged in one, which is made board a full cargo of tea. Hankow is in to include persons between the ages of 20 and 40 years. Credits are to be given to cities, towns, and wards, so as to equalize A HEALTHY Town .- Of the forty deaths as far as possible, the draft throughout each district. Washington, Jan. 17 .- Surgeon General Hammond is still-paralized from the effects of the accident with which he met while in the west. It is known that, as early as the 5th of December last, he asked both from the President and Secretary of War, a court martial or court of inquiry, to examine the charges against him: and this has now been granted. Members of the Sanitary Commission also pressed such proceedings as a matter of justice to Surgeon General Hammond, in whose skill and administrative powers they expressed to the President their highest confidence. The charges, it is understood, are unlawful and fraudulent practices in the conduct of the Medical Department.

A MARKET.—If it will not be deemed too officious on a short acquaintance, we beg to suggest to the citizens of Janesville one thing which they very much need, and that is a City Market. The city is amply large to sustain one, and it would not only be an ornament to the town, but a source of revenue to it. The building should be large enough to furnish stalls for all who wish to sell meats, vegetables, and other provisions, and the second story should be finished for a City Hall, Council Room, and offices for City Clerk and Treasurer. It would take but a short time for the rents of the first story and the saving of rents now paid for rooms the second story would furnish, to entirely reimburse the whole cost of the building. Afterwards the rents would go into a fund to pay other city ex penses. The convenience of having a hall where all public meetings, conventions, &c. could be held would be very great. Now is the time to move in this matter, before the price of lots sufficiently central to accommodate the whole city becomes too exorbitant, or all such lots become pre-ocenpied so as not to be obtained at all .--

What's the Matter?

There is a number of scrows loose some where in the mail arrangements in this State that ought to be tightened up at The paper is to remain as heretofore in Or hackmen, shouting in the snowy street—On with the dance! let beck be unconfined; once. Persons upon lines of railroad, only a few hours' ride apart, cannot communicate as quickly now as when the mail-bag been wounded and crippled for life and But hark! that heavy sound broaks in once more; was carried by a "solitary horseman" across the country. It takes some letters four days to reach here from Milwaukee, and three days from Beloit-and trains running regularly all the time. Letters written and mailed five days apart reach their destination at the same time. Such mail facilities would be a disgrace to the days of Rip Van Winkle, and unless it is reformed, the people will pray for the privilege of going back to the old stagecoach with its four good horses, its drunkon driver and its, tin horn. We are not complaining now of what occurred about the first of January, but since that time. We believe Mr. Peter Van Vechten can find profitable employment in looking after some of the route agents upon different lines of railroads in this State, and to that labor of mercy and love we respectfully invite his serious attention.

Jeff. Davis Holding the Balance of Power.

It is well known that the Union majority in the Pennsylvania Senate is only one, and as the robels now hold one of the Senators a prisoner at Richmond, things have come to a dead lock in the Sanate of the Keystone State. The copporheads hold that branch of the Legislature by a tie vote and stubbornly refuse to organize and proceed with the business. The rebel President declines to exchange the Union Senator upon any consideration whatever, and so things remain in statu quo. If the circumstances were reversed, and Jeff. Davis held a copperhead Senator prisoner, (if it be possible for the imagination to conceive of a copportional patting himself in a position to be taken prisoner.) would he not be likely to release him at the carliest opportunity? It is not one of Jeff. Davis' faults that he is not faithful to his friends, in proof which we cite the case

In the meantime, the people of Penusylvania can appreciate, at their leisure, the necessity of sending none but Union men to represent them at Harrisburg. This lesson will have its compensations

Judge Hubbell and the Speakership.

The Milwaukee News is anxious to make a point against the Republican party because the members of the Assembly did not see fit to elect Judge Hubbell to the Speakership of the House. Any person who will take the trouble to examine the balloting for speaker in the Union caucus, published elsewhere in this paper, will very readily see that the Judge was not the choice of the war democracy for that position, and failing of an endorsement among his own friends, it was not to be expected that the Republicans should abandon their own man and take up another. It is true as the News asserts, that the Judge did all in his power to defeat H. L. Palmer last fall, and for that labor he is entitled to the warmest thanks of a loyal people; but Messrs. Webb, Bingham and Field labored as industriously for the same laundable end, and should receive as much credit for so doing. The balloting clearly shows, also, that Mr. Northrup of Racine. who occupied exactly the same political platform with Hubbell, received more votes than he, and with the same propriety, the News might scold because Mr. Northrup was not chosen to fill the place for which he possesses conceded fitness. This thing of rewarding men simply because they are loyal and do their duty, is fast being played out, and ought to be stopped. We would not give a fig for that man's love of country, whose patriotism is of such feeble growth that it must be constantly fortressed by place and pow- | States. er in order to keep it from dying out.

have received large numbers of letters, the writers volunteering suggestions or advice as to what should be the features of the strong, passed through here to-day, en-route amendatory enrollment bill, evidently desiring that it should be so framed as to exempt themselves from the draft. The bill body to-morrow, and be sent to the House for concurrence. It corrects some of the faults in, and its object is to render more efficient the operation of, the present law. The only persons specially exempted from the draft are the Vice President of the United States, the Judges of the United States Courts, the heads of the several Executive Departments, and the Governors of States, and, by implication, such persons as are physically or mentally unfit for service, according to the prescribed army regulations. The two classes for enrollment and draft are merged in one, which is made to include persons between the ages of 20 cities, towns, and wards, so as to equalize as far as possible, the draft throughout each district. The commutation is increased to $400. Those who pay it are to be exempted from the present draft, but liable to be called upon in the next; in other words, they are in the condition of a reserved class. Drafted men may, if they prefer, be transferred to the navy, such transfer being credited to their respective localities. The city is amply large to sustain one, and it would not only be an ernament to the town, but a source of revenue to it. The building should be large enough to furnish stalls for all who wish to sell meats, vegetables, and other provisions, and the second story should be finished for a City Hall, Council Room, and offices for City Clerk and Treasurer. itself that this would be a good way to It would take but a short time for the rents make our nominations, and as I feel very of the first story and the saving of rents now paid for rooms the second story would furnish, to entirely reimburso the whole cost of the building. Afterwards the rents would go into a fund to pay other city exneuses. The convenience of having a hall

Present-Cyrus Bliss, W. H. Tripp, Daniel Johnson, R. T. Powell, and J. H

A committee was appointed to examine certificates of election. The committee consisted of Daniel Johnson, C. Bliss and W. H. Tripp, who reported that the above named persons and S. S. Northrop were entitled to seats. Mr. Northrop was not prešent.

The Board was then organized by the election of Cyrus Bliss, Chairman, who received four votes, blank one.

The Board then adjourned till to-morrow, at 9 o'clock A. M., in order to give the Chairman time to appoint the committees.

THE ACCIDENT AT MILTON.-We understand that Mrs. Miner, of Foud du Lac, one of the persons injured by the explosion of the locomotive at Milton Junction, is now insane from the shock to the nervous system, and is lying in a very critical condition. Her wounds, which were not very serious, are doing well.

The others, Mrs. Simons and child are doing well and will soon recover. There will be a Special Meeting of Washington Engine Co. No. 3, this evening at their hall. A full attendance is requested. By order, Wм. Вооти, Sec'y. SHOES FOUND .- A pair of children's shoes, partly worn, was handed into our

FROM HADISON, .... I ditorial Correspondence. JANUARY 16, 1864.

The mail arrangements between this place and Janesville, are of such a diabolical character that any one having news to communicate, is in a quandry whether he will use the telegraph or send his communication by some ox team which may in order that the Speaker might have an happen to be going in that direction. The Gazette generally arrives in two days, while the New York papers reach here in four. If postmaster Keyes of this city, and brother Burgess of our town don't put their heads together and fix up the mail arrangements between twoof the smartest towns in the State, I hope Allick Randall will remove them both and put better men in their stead, though it might puzzle him to find them. I have informed you before by telegraph of the organization of the Assembly. Lot me new go back a little and give some account of how the thing was accomplished. The official proceedings of any deliberative body, are generally very dry and uninteresting, while the unofficial sets of its members and the plots and counterplots that are concected, have much more of the real life and pith about them. In these linstily written notes from the capitol this session, I shall not only endeavor to give the readers of the Guzette a true insight into all business of importonce that transpires here, but shall try and keep them posted upon matters of interest which may be less official than

During several years of observation a the State Capital, I have never known so lively and spirited a canvas for Speakership, us at the present session. - The lead ing candidates at the outset, were Messrs. Field, Webb, Hubboll, Bingham, and Northrup of Racine, and at the first caucus held on Tuesday evening, there was no choice, the balloting being as follows:

Pormal 19 27 Ded. C. Northrup........ J. C. U. Noiderman......

At the close of the second formul bal lot an adjournment, was had,, although Field would most likely have been chosen had the caucus not adjourned. On Wed nesday the log rolling can better be imto see the House organized as it should be. Judge Hubbell, of Milwaukee, and G. C. Northrup of Racine, as will be observed by the balloting. The intelligent reader can very readily see just what combinations might have been made by the different parties to insure success, and he may rest assured that just such arrangements; were very earnestly and persistently tried | on. But the wire-pulling was all in vain, Wednesday night came and with it tho cancus. The following table exhibits the -ballotings:

William C. Webb, Reo C Northrop, J. M. Bingham,... Levi Hubbell,..... I. D. Barron, .... J. A. Barber,....

It will be seen that Mr. Field slipped in by the skin of his teeth on the 5th ballot, Webb withdrawing in a neat and pertinent speech after the fourth ballot. Mr. Field is from Grant county, a farmer by profession, an experienced legislator, and, I believe, an honest man, which is about as good a qualification as a man can possess in these latter days. The farmers of this State have reason to congratulate themselves upon the fact that they have given to the Assembly of 1864, one of their own number to preside over its deliberations. Mr. Field is the first farmer ever elected to that office since the organization of the State government. He will do them and himself credit.

After the nomination of a candidate for Speaker, Mr. Bingham, of Jefferson, brought forward the name of A. M. Thomson as a suitable candidate for the position of Sergeant-at-Arm of the Assembly, and briefly alluded to the manner in which the duties of that office had been discharged by the same individual during the last session. General Starks, of Sauk, seconded | Governor of the Manachusetts Bay Company, at their the nomination, and the caucus confirmed it by acclaimation. This was an unlooked for, and I fear, an undeserved compliment. Mr. John S. Dean who has served the Assembly so faithfully and so long in the capacity of Assistant Clerk under the lamented Col. Crane, and later as Chief Clerk, so that his services are now indispensable, was also re-elected by acclamation. He is the right man in the right place. So much for the work of the cancus. It is needless to say that the nominations were all confirmed by the action of the Assembly, and the Legislative mill put in readiness for grinding. Let us hope that the grists may be clean

Slavery having plunged the nation into the war, it is fit that it should die by the laws of war, Sharey stands before the readers of the Governor's Message, which was delivered to a very large and interesting audience. That document has already been laid before the readers of the Gazette, so that comment upon it in this place would searedly be expedient. It is worthy of remark, however, that the words of the same of the sa of remark, however, that the message is more devoted to the elucidation of State uffairs than is usual under such circumstances, which is an improvement that will be very generally appreciated by the people. His allusions to National topics are brief and well considered, and the sentiments contained in that part of the Message will meet with the hearty approval of every loyal man in Wisconsin. The Governor delivered his message in person, and read it in a clear and distinct manner. On Friday the Assembly-adjourned over until Monday evening at 7 o'clock P. M., opportunity to arrange the standing committees of the House. Those will probably be announced_next Tuesday morn-For a wonder, the resolution inviting the resident clergymen of Madison to open the morning sessions by prayer, did not plicit the usual amount of small wit common on such occasions. This question has generally been considered a sort of touchstone by which the asses were known. Being one of the first things brought to the attention of the Assembly upon its organization, it afforded an excellent opportunity for a cortain class of minds to sucer at religion and all those who openly acknowledge its importance and obligations. But on this occasion, only one or two members of the genus copperheadions, felt disposed to make merry at the expense of the elergy. Jones, the irrepressible Jones, the talkative Jones, the gasseous Jones, of Dodge, went his length and was silent. Let us hope that Wisconsin legislators hereafter will yet attain to that high degree, of civilization and christianization that the proposition to acknowledge a Supreme Ruler of the Universe, may not be deamed incompatable with their dignity or uties.

The third house, or what is generally denominated the "swearing train," took its departure on Friday. About one hundred and fifty enthusiastic and patriotic individunils who were exceedingly anxious to serve their country in some capacity where the pay was, abundant and the duties merely nominal, took their leave for home, wiser and wickeder men, (if the profunity of disappointed politicians be any criterion for Outside of legislative matters I have two

THE PROGRESS OF LIBERTY.

It would be a most interesting task to retrace the footprints of liberty, amidst the dust and rubbish which have gathered over the history of the past; to follow the ofitimes obliterated pathway by which, since Christ's sermon on the mount, freedom regulated by law has been developed into its present majestic and grand proportions. I hesitate not to affirm that all that there is which is valuable in republigan and free institutions has its foundation have told us much of courts and camps, of the changes of dynastics, of battles by land and on thesen; but who among them has traced the history of man's progress, and his struggles, through the ages, for "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness?" This history, even as presented by that nation and race most interesting to us-the English-has vet to be fully written. The historian has yet to write who has gone back and recorded for us the dawn of fivedom among the early Saxons, its memorable triumph on the field of Runnymede, its struggles through the reigns of the Henrys and Edwards, its thence to the Petition of Right, pausing with sad steps at the grave of Hampden and the scaffolds of Russell and Algernon Sidney; thence to the revolution of 1688, the gradual but sure advance to the noble efforts of Fox and Ersking, and Curran to secure freedom of speech, liberty of the press, and trial by jury, down to the crowning glory of the English constitution, when Lord Mansfield electrified the island of Great Britain by proclaiming in the case | of the negro Somerset, "that Slaves can-not breathe in England." God speed the hour when the Chief Justice of our land may truth ally announce the same fact. Then, a t not till then, would I have crowned the dome of this Capitol with the statue of Liberty. The great English bard who expiated a life of follies by giving himself a martyr to Greece, has said :

"For freedom's battle, once begun, Bequeathed by bleeding sire to son, Though bailled oft, is ever won."

The historian who writes the story of man's progress from slavery and barbarism to Christian civilization and liberty, will find no more interesting page than that which is now being filled with the struggle in which we are engaged; none where the contest between liberty and slavery has been more clearly defined; none upon a grander theater; none where the combatants, by their numbers, genius, ability, and heroism, have given more dignity and sublimity to the contest,

FROM MADISON, mides sm2

Liditorial Correspondence, January 16, 1864. The mail arrangements between this place and Janesville, are of such a diabolical character that any one having news to communicate, is in a quandry-whether he will use the telegraph or send his communication by some ox team which may happen to be going in that direction. The Gazette generally arrives in two days, while the New York papers reach here in four. If postmaster Keyes of this city, and brother Burgess of-our town don't put their heads together and fix up the mail arrangements between two of the smartest towns in the State, I hope Allick Randall will remove. them both and put better men in their stead, though it might puzzle him to find them- I have informed you before by telegraph of the organization of the Assembly. Let me now go back a little and give some account of how the thing was accomplished. The official proceedings of any deliberative body, are generally very dry and uninteresting, while the unofficial acts of its members and the plots and counterplots that are concected, have much more of the real life and pith about them. In these hastily written notes from the capitol this session, I shall not only endeavor to give the readers of the Gazette a true insight into all business of importance that transpires here, but shall try and keep them posted upon matters of interest which may be less official than During several years of observation at the State Capital, I have never known so lively and spirited a canvas for Speakership, as at the present session. The leading candidates at the outset, were Messrs. Field, Wobb, Hubbell, Bingham, and Northrup of Racine, and at the first caucus held on Tuesday evening, there was no choice, the balloting being as follows:

lat Informi 2d Informi 1st Formal Wm. C. Webb.
Wm. W. Meld.
Leel Hubbell.
Geo.C. Northrup.
J. Allen Barber.
J. M. Binghem.

At the close of the second formal ballot an adjournment; was had; although-Field would most likely have been chosen had the canens not adjourned. On Wednesday the log rolling can better be imagined than described, especially among outsiders, who had come up in strong force to see the House organized as it should be. The War Democrats did not seem to act in. concert, the vote being divided between Judge Hubbell, of Milwaukee, and G. C. Northrup of Racine, as will be observed by the balloting. The intelligent reader can very readily see just what combinations might have been made by the different parties to insure success, and he may rest assured that just such arrangements were very earnestly and persistently tried on. But the wire-pulling was all in vain, Wednesday night came and with it the caucus. The following table exhibits the Internal Information of the Portugal State Formation Formation Formation of the Portugal State Formation of the Portugal Formation of the Form Geo. C. Northrop, J. M. Bingham, Levi Hubbell, H. D. Barron, J. A. Barber, Rhuk,

50 It will be seen that Mr. Field slipped in by the skin of his teeth on the 5th ballot, Webb withdrawing in a neat and pertinent speech after the fourth ballet. Mr. Field is from Grant county, a farmer by profession, an experienced legislator, and, f believe, an honest man, which is about as good a qualification as a man can possess in these latter days. The farmers of this State have reason to congratulate themselves upon the fact that they have given to the Assembly of 1864, one of their own number to preside over its deliberations. Mr. Field is the first farmer ever elected to that office since the organization of the State government. He will do them and himself credit.

After the nomination of a candidate for. Speaker, Mr. Bingham, of Jefferson, brought forward the name of A. M. Thomson as a suitable candidate for the position of Sergeant-at-Arm of the Assembly, and briefly alluded to the manner in which the duties of that office had been discharged by the same individual during the last session. General Starks, of Sauk, seconded the nomination, and the cancus confirmed it by acclausation. This was an unlooked for, and I fear, an undeserved compliment. Mr. John S. Dean who has served the Assembly so faithfully and so long in the capacity of Assistant Clerk under the lamented Col. Crane, and later as Chief Clerk, so that his services are now indispensable, was also re-elected by acclamation. He is the right man in the right place. So much for the work of the canous. It is needless to say that the nominations were all confirmed by the action of the Assembly, and the Legislative mill put in readiness for grinding. Let us hope that the grists may be clean and the number small.

The Senate organized by choosing Frank M. Stewart, of Sauk, Chief Clerk, and Nelson Williams, of Dane, Serge-at Arms. On Thursday the two houses met in Joint Convention for the purpose of listening to the Governor's Message, which was delivered to a very large and interesting audience. That document has already been laid before the readers of the Gazette so that comment upon it in this place would scarcely be expedient. It is worthy of remark, however, that the message is more devoted to the elucidation of State offairs than is usual under such circumstances, which is an improvement that will be very generally appropriated by the

ces of revenue for different purposes that have never been fully inderstood by the people. His allusions to National topics are brief and well considered, and the sentiments contained in that part of the Message will meet with the hearty approval of every loyal man in Wisconsin. The Governor delivered his message in person, and read it in a clear and distinct manner. On Friday the Assembly adjourned over until Monday evening at 7 o'clock P. M., in order that the Speaker might have an pportunity to arrange the standing committees of the House. Those will probably be announced next Tuesday morning of Aug 102 HA 1 HO 10 A A A He For a wonder, the resolution inviting the resident clergymen of Madison to open the morning sessions by prayer, did not elicit the usual amount of small wit common on such occasions. This question has gonerally been considered a sort of touchstone by which the asses were known . Being one of the first things brought to the attention of the Assembly upon its organization, it afforded an excellent opportunity for a certain class of minds to succe at reigion, and all those who openly acknowledge its importance and obligations. But on this occasion, only one or two members of the genus copperheadicus, felt disposed to make merry at the expense of the eler-Jones, the irrepressible Jones, the talkative Jones, the gasseous Jones, of Dodge, went, his length and was silent. Let us hope that Wisconsin legislators hereafter will yet attain to that high degree of civilization and christianization that the proposition to acknowledge a Supreme Ruler of the Universe, may not be deemed incompatable with their dignity or duties.

The third bouse, or what is generally denominated the "swearing train," took its departure on Friday. About one hundred and fifty enthusiastic and patriotic individuals who were exceedingly anxious to serve their country in some capacity where the pay was abundant and the duties merely nominal, took their leave for home, wiser and wickeder men, (if the profunity of disappointed politicians be any criterion for crime.)
Outside of legislative matters I have two interesting incidents to record that are worthy of note. Yesterday morning, Judge century Hubbell took a soldier with him into the Speaker's desk and made a brief speech in his behalf, stating where and how the poor retruce the footprints of liberty; amidst the fellow lost his arm in his country's service. and closed by an affecting appeal to the offtimes obliterated pathway by which, members in his behalf. Hats were passed | since Christ's sermon on the mount, freeand in less time than it takes to write it, dom regulated by law has boon developed the poor fellow had thirty oud dollars in his pocket, as the result of the contribution. The other incident runs in this wise: Alyoung married man who left his wife in Belavan Walworth county, and enlisted in the Government service at an early day, has been reported dead for a long time, and his friends have mourned for him as of that number whose graves ridge the accursed soil of the South. But he was neither dead nor sleeping, only a prisoner and was recently exchanged and ordered to report at this place which he did one day this week.

Fading in with a friend here from his old home, he was naturally eager in his inquiries about relatives and acquaintancos, and especially as to the welfare of her whom he had so ardontly loved through fleres and bloody contest with Charles the all the disappointments and hardships of First, the Roundhead against the Cavalier; a soldier's life. Imagine his surprise and bitter disappointment when he was informed that his wife, believing him dead, had married another! Here we drop the curtain, leaving it to the imagination of the reader to conceive of that tableau which will soon take place when the brave and honored soldier confronts the faithless wife and the unfortunate man who calls himself her husband.

This letter is already too long and I stop short. Λ. Μ. Τ.

THE PROCRESS OF LIBERTY.

It would be a most interesting task to dust and rubbish which have gathered over the history of the past; to follow the into its present majestic and grand propor-I hesitate not to affirm that all that there is which is valuable in repub-lican and free institutions has its foundation in the subline morality and broad humanity of the Bible. The glorious, theme of man's struggle, through the ages, for liberty is yet to be written. Historians have told us much of courts and camps, of the changes of dynasties, of battles by land and on thesen; but who among them has triced the history of man's progress, and his struggles, through the ages, for hite, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness?" This history, even as presented by that nation and race most interesting to us—the English—has yet to be fully written. The historian has yet to write who has gone back and recorded for us the dawn of freedom among the early Saxons, its memorable triumph on the field of Runnymede, its struggles through the reigns of the Henrys and Edwards, its thence to the Petition of Right, pausing with ead steps at the grave of Hampden and the scaffolds of Russell and Algernon Sidney: thence to the revolution of 1688, he gradual but sure advance to the noble ellorts of Fox and Erskine and Curran to secure freedom of speech, liberty of the press, and trial by jury, down to the crowning glory of the English constitution, when Lord Mansheld electrified the island of Great Britain by proclaiming in the case of the negro Somerset, "that Slaves can-not breathe in England."

God speed the hour when the Chief Justice of our land may truth ally announce the same fact. Then, a t not till then, would I have growned the dome of this Capitol with the statue of Liberty. The great English bard who expirited a life of follies hy giving himself a martyr to Greece, has said :

"For freedom's battle, once begun, Benneuthed by blooding sire to son, Though baffled oft, is ever won,"

The historian who writes the grory of man's progress from slavery and barbarism to Christian civilization and liberty, will find no more interesting page than that which is now being filled with the struggle in which we are engaged; none where the contest between liberty and slavery has been more clearly defined; none upon a grander theater; none where the combatants, by their numbers, genius, ability, and heroism, have given more dignity and sublimity to the contest.

WEAPONS OF FREEDOM:

When, in 1858, Abraham Lincoln attered the philosophic truth that freedom and slavery could not permanently exist togeth-er—that our country would become all free or all slave—he did not anticipate any but a proval conflict. The weapons by which he expected freedom to triumph were the weapons of truth and free discussion. Free speech, a free press, reason, the schoolmaster, the sermon, the lecture, the printing-press, the telegraph, the ballot; these were the agencies, the weapons, by which the battle was to be fought. It was with the ballot, and not with bullets, the victory was expected to be won. The victory was won by these peaceful agencies in the election of Amraham Lincoln as President, Slavery, conscious that it could not stand free discussion, that it must be destroyed if free speech and a free press were tolerated, apposled from the ballot-box to the sword, and brought upon the country this terrible war.

SLAVERY MUST DIE DY THE LAWS OF WAR. Favor Us With Their Patronage!

Shivery having plunged the nation into this war, it is fit that it should die by the laws of war. Slavery stands before the world to-day guilty of all the onlamities of our country. Every dollar expended, every drop of blood ry suffering endured, every drop of blood spilled; every wound, and every death, on every hattle-field and in every haspital, is the price we pay for the existence and teleration of American slavery. It is to-day a rebel and a traitor. Let us declare it an outlaw under our Constitution and laws. There has never been a day since our and its wrongs, from the organization of the Government down would swell into volumes. The effect of slavery in retarding our national growth and prosperity are apparent-st-a The finest portion of our country, with the richest soil, situated in the most genial.

man, who, then obscure; has become at climate, has been blighted by this gurse. American history. The sentiment was the sun with every element of prosperity and wealth showered upon it, yet poor, "A house divided against itself cannot sparsely settled, with neither thrift, nor nor comfort, nor commerce, nor manufactures, nor culture, novart, nor intelligence; all because labor was not free, While sterile, rocky, cold, bleak, barren New England, under the influence of free labor, smiles with abundant harvests, every hill shelters a thriving village; with every element of comfort, with whitening every sea, with skilled and intelligent labor which sends its manufacturers to the uttermost parts of the carth.
Why is this? Because liberty dwells among the mountains of New England, and slavery blackens and desolates the sun-ny plains of the South. In the one you find the happy home, the school house, the church, the lyceum, the newspaper, the railroad, the telegraph; and everywhere domestic comfort and domestic virtue, refinement, culture, the arts. tastes, Christian civilization in its highest forms. In the other you find the great plantation, the slave-pon, squalor, poverty, misery; in place of the school-house, the slave market, where children, boys and girls, are bought and sold, ignorance, bruwithout inventions or labor-saving machin so, to-day, the American people seed moral blight, an intellectual exanguasite, slavery must die that liberty and the Union moral blight, an intellectual exanguasite, may live. "Delenda est Carthago" became reducing rapidly a once noble people into barbarism: Such are the results of slavery loval patriotic Ro-barbarism: Such are the results of slavery loval patriotic Ro-barbarism: so, to-day, the American people feel that ery everywhere slavery operating as a very. These results as naturally follow free labor, and the degradation of labor; as that the summer produces fruit and the winter destroys it.

> that are fettered and the hands that are manacled cannot contend with those that and the hand that executes all great things must be free.

God has established the great law_of compensation, that true national greatnose can never grow up from wrong wickedness, and we hohold to day -in our country its most striking illustration.

All history teaches that ignorance, vice pauperism; and barbarism are the nutural nd inevitable results of the degradation of labors. It is quite time to cut loose this millatone from about our necks, ---SLAYERY BECAME MASTER OF OUR COVERN

MENT. Slavery having in an unfortunate moment been tolerated by the framers of our Jonstitution, under the mistaken belief that it would be but a temporary evil, soon aspired to and became the master of the Government. Having intrenched itselfing the very oltadel of political power, concious of its inherent weakness, it demandod additional territory for its expansion; first Louisiana, then Florida, then Texas. Phese territories, vast enough for an empire, having been sacured, slavery then demanufol the repeal of the Missouri line, that she night carry her curse North as well as South and West.

Why need I remind the people of the perfidious rapical of the Missouri compromise, showing the slaveholder's promise to be as sacred as a gambler's word or a socessionist's onth? The sury of the sub-linic struggle in Kansas, between fraud and violence and outrage on one side, and heroic firminess on the other, has not facled from the memory of the people. .. Her praiies, red with the blood of the martyrs to iberty, her valleys black with the cinders of her burned and devestated towns; and villages, attest alike the devotion of her people to liberty and the savage harbarity of her enemies. All honor to Kansas .-She was the rock against which the turbulent waves of violence rolled in vain .-Single-handed she successfully resisted the slave power-backed by the Federal Government.

Up to this period of this struggle; the career of the slaveholders in their lust of domination had met with no serious check. Slavery was absolute on the bench of the Supreme Court; it distated in the national councils; it furnished the Presidents, or designated the most base, subsequient fool it could purchase among its northern sycophunts to occupy the Executive Mansion. It was a ruler in the Halls of Congress.— The Army and the Navy, with West Point and the Naval School as its nurseries—the training from which yet lingers—were its right and left hand to carry out its purposes. The national treasure, collected in large proportion at the North, was expended mainly at the South and to till up the pockets of slaveholders. The qualifications for your representatives absord were feativeto slavery. Every new Territory was filled with the minions of this slave power, and was as regularly trained up to the interests of slavory as the proteges of Jefferson Davis in military life were trained to his will.

QUESTIONS OF PEACE AND WAR, OF TOREIGN AND DOMESTIC POLICY CONTROLLED AND SHAPED BY SLAVEHOLDERS.

The slaveholder held the purse and the sword; he was king at the White House, a ruler here in this Hall, a despot in the Senate, and everywhere a tyrant.
Such was the position of the sleveholder

्राप्त प्रदेश स्वयं प्रदेश स्वयं प्रदेश स्वयं । SLAVERY HAD REVOLUTIONIZED THE GOV-

SLAVERY HAD REPOLUTIONIZED THE GOVERNMENT AND DESTROYED THE PRINCIPLES OF LIBERTY.

Meanwhile slavery had revolutionized the Government. The great principles of Magna Charta and the Declaration if Independence had coased to have practical existence in a longer part of the Union Liberty of speech, freedom of the Press, and trial by jury had disappeared in the slave graces. Indeed, that portion to the slave glates. Indeed, that portion lof the se-called Republic had ceased to be a government of law, and had become a govern-ment of tyrannic, cruel oligarchy, moreodious, dispicable, and cruel than any on earth. There was no redress for any outrage, however cruel, if perpetrated in behalf and at the behest of slavery. The yengeance of the glaveholder against the man who spoke or published in behalf of liberty was sharp, speedy and relenting. The bowie-knife and the bludgeon, the halter, and even the stake, were the instruments of violence and torture resorted to by every perty linch judge who found any bold enough to question the divinity of the speculiar institution." In the slave States of this Union a freeman had no rights which a slaveholder felt bound to respect. In those States the Constitution had disappeared. I say, then, that shre-ry had established a revolution, overturn-ed a republican form of government, and established a dispotism in its place.

The degeneracy and barbarism produced by slavery are strikingly illustrated by Virginia. Bofore the rebellion the chief source of her wealth was in the cargoes existence as a nation when slavery was and coffles of mon, wemen, and children loyal to the Constitution and the Union, she raised and sent to the Gulf States for DIBLES! Leffits pauso à moment, Mr. Chairman and contemplate the saddest spectacle of all this war Virginia as she is to-day She was worthy of her early pre-currence Her carly history was brilliant, indeed Washington, Jefferson, Patrick Henry Madison, and Marshall, all men of whon any nation might be proud. There is some conformation of the old Commonwealth With the Alleghanies and the Blue Ridge running through her entire extent, she seems fushioned for the abode of freemen When we remember that her greatest wri ter penned the Declaration of Independence and the Ordinance of 1787, and that he declared that in a contest between her slaveholders and their slaves the Almight had no attribute which would take sides with the muster; and when we look upon her to-day, and see to what slavery has reduced the proud old Commonwealth, it is indeed the suddest spectacle of the war She is being purged as with fire; she wil pass through this agony, and come out of regenerated. Once more shall she be hail ed as the mother of States-free States and statesmen: Mount Vernon and Mon and statesment. Mount Vernor and Monticello will again become the Meccas of the American patriot. Through the dark clouds which now envelop her, the how of promise shall re-appear; that how shall rest upon liberty. When she shall have passed through this agony, and shall arise freed and regenerated, when every petry tyrant shall have been detheroned then will

You have abolished it at this capitals Your Government has hung a man for participating in the slave trade. You have admitted West Virginia, free. You have acknowledged the independence of Hayti. You have enlisted, and are enlisting, African soldiers; they have carried your banner bravely and triumphantly on many hard fought fields. You have pledgd your faith to them, to the world, and to God, thut they shall be free. You have crowned the domeof your Capitol with Lib erty. Three Sizes Evaporators.

Works, Janesville, Wis., and for strength and durability THEY HAVE NO SUPERIOR.

For the benefit of those who may not have seen them, we will state that the shoft's in those mills are all made of wrought from and very large, thus guarding ugainst breakage. The reflets are also thicker than in other mills, to prevent crushing in.

These mills are so arranged that every case gots the the same amount of pressure, thus avoiding its use of weights and levers to keep the mill from breaking by allowing the reflers to raise when two or more cause cross each other, and in this way not giving the cane on each side of the crossed causes the same pressure; as it is evident if two or three causes are fed on top of each other and the reflect into two archived as it should be. In our mills this difficulty is avoided and much

be. In our mills this difficulty is avoided and muccane Juice saved.

We have the agency for the celebrated Cook's Evaporator and can furnish them at manufacturers prices, freight added. We can furnish the pan agenc, for setting up an arch, if any should prefer it, thus giving a batter no.

AT AS LOW A PRICE,

although we would recommend the Evaporator with rectars and furnace complete as much the test if par-ties can afford it, yet to those who cannot, we offer the ties can aftern it, yet to those the parameters this fail we pan separately.
